Gain a Higher Return on Your Company's Charitable Investment by working with the Community Foundation of Nova Scotia

Your company's community profile is a precious asset, so you want its charitable activity to be effective, focused and worthwhile. The Community Foundation of Nova Scotia will help your business give back to your local community in a meaningful way that aligns with your business objectives.

As a management student at Dalhousie University with significant volunteer experience under his belt, Kyle Nadler knows that integrity is essential in developing a successful business. When he started his own company, Undergrad Promotions, he knew that giving back to the community would be a must.

Offering affordable marketing solutions by connecting local businesses with university students was just one of the goals of Undergrad Promotions. While developing a sustainable and thriving business, Kyle also wanted to build philanthropy into his corporate structure.

The result? Undergrad Promotions emerged as a value-based firm delivering innovative and cost efficient marketing and promotions across the Province while fulfilling Kyle's vision of giving back to the community through the Community Foundation of Nova Scotia.

"As I searched for an efficient, fair and simple way to give back, I came across the Community Foundation of Nova Scotia. Through their numerous community initiatives, projects and services, I was able to meet my goals. In addition, the CFNS gave me the freedom to choose where my contributions go and see first-hand the impact it makes. I'm looking forward to an ongoing partnership with the Community Foundation of Nova Scotia."
